

Limit media ownership. The cable industry is already choking the information flow. Fewer owners means less access.